ANOTHER INDIAN RAID.

The city has been full of Indian rumors all day. Many exaggerated stories are in circulation to-day. The following is the most accurate information we can obtain. There is every probability that the soldiers have already driven the red devils far away from the road:

JUNCTION, July 16.—Another raid was made by the Indians last night. They first made their appearance at Bijou Ranch, on the cut-off, about 65 miles from Denver, killing two immigrants, and wounding one, probably mortally. They also run off 17 head of horses and mules. This same band came directly down the road, and run off all the Stage Company's stock at this place, and all the station-keeper's horses, two miles below, at the Junction Ranch, [illegible] Mr. Reynolds. They ran off sixty head of horses from Murray's, the first station below the Junction. They also run off all the [illegible] and killed [illegible] head of Murray's finest cattle.

The soldiers from Living Springs left the Junction this morning at two o'clock and overtook them about twenty-five miles southeast of here on Beaver creek. Only five Indians were with the stock. These five Indians were killed and nearly all the stock recovered. None of the soldiers were harmed. All of the stage stock was recovered.

Another raid was made either by the same or another band, near Valley Station. All the stock was driven off [illegible] any all leaving for Beaver. Dead cattle, full of arrows, are lying in all directions. A general Indian war is anticipated. The soldiers under Lieut. Chase, about twenty in number, are here, recruiting their horses. They will start down the road this evening. The excitement is intense. J. W. FORD, Operator.

VALLEY STATION, July 16—2½ P. M.

The stage has just come down and the passengers say that they found two men killed and scalped on the road at Beaver creek, about a mile above the station. There were eleven Indians came to the station while they were there, and took a pony from the stage here.

A VENAL PRESS.

Of all contemptible creatures that live and move, and have their being on God's great earth, the most despicable is the hypocrite. We pass by [illegible] the timid friend who fawns and flatters before your face, to malign and libel behind your back; the professed Christian who folds around him the deceptive robe of seeming piety, and sits in his costly, cushioned pew last fashionable church, only that he may the more readily, and the more surely deceive and ruin his brother man; the silly sergeant that charms and entrances its susceptible victims, to lure it on to death; or the sycophantic politician who blows hot and cold with the same breath, while he adores and stabs the Government that shields and protects his person and his property. If there are degrees by which to measure meanness, adjust the scale to these characters, and nay, quickly is [illegible] a [illegible] picture. A newspaper professing loyalty; its editor daily swearing fealty to the Government: at the head of his leading editorial column he flaunts the flag of Lincoln and Johnson; when required to swear allegiance to the Constitution, and a love for the Union; while he has gone a little too far he re-endorsed the nominations of the Baltimore Convention, and expresses a wish for their success;—yet, day by day he utters [illegible] against the President, against his cabinet, and against their administration of the government. Honey [illegible] and bright and wormwood in his heart. The smile is in the blanket at the head of his columns; the sting is in the [illegible] matter beneath. The first is a mask; the last is real. Does he think the people will fail to look through his flimsy guise?

We make the following extracts from an article in this paper, bearing date the 13th inst., and headed "Imbecility." The [illegible] are ours;

"It is useless to talk; we cannot conquer the Southern people with an equal force. It is the height of folly to our suffering people and brave soldiers to longer attempt it. The situation to-day is most disheartening to the prosecution of the campaign."

"Better for rest [illegible] Then seem [illegible] to grow [illegible] have a conception [illegible] the [illegible] the [illegible] terests at stake. How will the Administration sink the people for whose future years of the nation's life, and it continues in strife with the transcendent interests entrusted to it."

"If we cannot or will not, let's quit before the public debt becomes too great for redemption. It's thoroughly disgusting the way things are managed by the bar room story tellers at the head of the Government. It is little wonder that earnest men drop off and go for another candidate. If there was a [illegible] afraid to shoot another man, we would be for him in a minute. Let not the public think a moment from [illegible] that our task is impossible. The people will assassinate him, the President] one of these days if he don't do better. We could wish that Keell, that dauntless old fighter who compels admiration by his earnestness would carry him off in the fight, that the northern people might be moved to a sense of their condition."

Need we add that these choice excerpts are from the Mining Journal, published at the city of Black Hawk in the Territory of Colorado.

YESTERDAY'S REPORT.

Items respecting the Maryland Raid, Secessionists, Suspicions, and Skirmishes.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Additional alarm was occasioned on the Virginia side of the Potomac yesterday, by a report that the rebels were running the railroad up to Manassas; this is not yet verified, but is not thought impossible, and that the rebel designs are to command the gaps, and keep communication open between Gordonsville and the Valley.

The Star says that the rebel raiders, numbering four or five hundred, passed through Little Washington and Sperryville Thursday night, on their way to Madison and Gordonsville. They had about [illegible] and [illegible] were mounted on horses led by the rebels. They passed Culpeper's about eight o'clock; and half an hour after a small force of Union cavalry from Madison made their appearance, pursuing the rebels, who gave out that they were on their way to Gordonsville, and thence to Richmond. They were in a hurry, having received information that Sheridan was between them and Richmond with a large force of cavalry. These are doubtless a part of the force lately operating in Maryland.

Secessionists in Baltimore say that the recent invasion was only a reconnoissance, and that they will receive reinforcements, and return with Lee in command.

PHILADELPHIA, July 16.—The Enquirer's special says, that about 200 of Mosby's command passed near Leesburg on Tuesday night, each rider leading a horse, and driving before them about 1,000 head of cattle. When last heard from, they were making for Ashby's gap. Another portion were known to be at Chester's Gap on Wednesday noon. Harry Gilmore's cavalry were the last to cross the Potomac, which they did at Edward's Ferry. After crossing, a small force was sent towards Snickersville, while the main force moved directly toward Ashby's Gap.

Neighbor Maximilian heard from.

On Monday a detachment of 150 men crossed the Shenandoah river below Dutch Gap, for the purpose of attacking a force of rebels, stationed in pickets and drills at a place known as Cox's farm.

At daylight on Thursday morning the attack was made on the enemy, numbering about three hundred. After considerable skirmishing the rebels were forced to come out and give battle. In the engagement which followed the rebels suffered severely. Our loss was small. A large quantity of small arms, ammunition, and camp equipage was captured. A large amount of grain, together with the machinery, grist and saw mills were destroyed.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Advices from Sherman's army state that four of our strongest corps are south of the Chattahoochie, strongly intrenched in the rebel's original works. The rebels had a great many wounded, and had fallen back, to and over the fortifications of Atlanta, three miles from the city. These works are very strong, with over 20,000 Georgia militia in them. The rebels are moving all their supplies to Augusta.

Another report says that Johnston had fallen back to Cedar Bluffs, eight miles beyond Atlanta, thus virtually yielding the stronghold.

AFTERNOON REPORT.

The Raiders' Retreat—Pursuit abandoned.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Further pursuit of the rebel raiders has been abandoned, and they will probably succeed in reaching Lynchburg with their booty in safety, unless intercepted between Staunton and Lynchburg.

Persons returning to the Gap say it is a train was [illegible] of all sorts of vehicles filled with every variety of plunder and was over a mile long. Over seven thousand head of cattle, horses and mules, and large droves of sheep and hogs were sent through the Gap, by the rebels previous to their retreat, and were pastured in meadows along the river until after the withdrawal of the main body was commenced, which was on Tuesday morning. Several hundred wounded, in wagons and ambulances were brought through the Gap, among them one Brigadier and several Colonels besides a number of officers of lower grades. Most of them were wounded in the battle of Monocacy.

The Government has been put in possession of the strength of the force which invaded Maryland. It was composed of infantry, artillery and cavalry. The artillery known to have been brought here by the rebels was three 10 inch rifle batteries, with cavalry and [illegible] with infantry supports; one of fourteen guns and one of eighteen. The mounted battery contained [illegible] pieces, the others four each. They would [illegible] together comprise at least 12,000 men.

The rebel officers have acknowledged that their loss at Monocacy was over one thousand killed and wounded, and here at over six thousand, most of them in the charge of a brigade of the 6th corps. Colonels of the 60th and 61th Georgia were killed in this charge.

From Gen. Sherman.

CHATTAHOOCHIE, July 15.—The Times says, at last accounts there had been no pursuit of the rebels, and no advance from the south bank of the Chattahoochie. Passengers from Nashville says, that it is reported there that Sherman had taken six thousand prisoners the time when, and the locality, is not stated.

— ROLL OF FAME.—Among those that come up to the mark of our "high calling," since the first, we would mention our philosophic friend on the corner of Fifth and Front streets, West Denver. That aforesaid vender of light bread, lager, canned fruits and family groceries, John Robinson, handed our editor for a XX on his advance subscription for the daily till next Fourth of July. That's what we call inscribing one's autograph on the "roll of fame!"

— Yesterday wore a certain sabbath expression, morning, noon and night. Few were to be seen in the streets, except going to, and returning from religious meetings. — Co. Jas & Hostetter, and Nixon & Co., two ice cream caterers to the comfort of the public, in Chicago, advertised on Peter's, near the Larimer, are the most liberally deposed friends of printers and newspaper folks that we ever knew. It is refresh ng delightful to eat a saucer of their delicious luxury, and then regale your throat with one of their currant wine and strawberry flavored sparklers. Try it this evening you and yours.

— RETURNING.—Quite a number of our citizens are at present rusticating in the mountains. Gen. Pearce and family, with one or two friends, are down at Pike's Peak and the Soda springs. A. Sagendorf, Esq., and family, Mrs. Ashley, and several others belonging to the same party, are treating along Montana creek. Mrs. Gov. Evans and family are at Red River. A party of Denver gentlemen are at Idaho, and sporting others are scattered in various directions. It is very pleasant for those who can, to indulge in such recreation.

— WESTWARD HO!—The lines of Bishop Berkeley, where he says

"We must the Star of Empire take Westward," have actually been realized on the great plains this season. The emigration from the East to the West has been one continued and continuous tide of women, men, and wagons. From a memorandum kept at Fort Laramie, and copied by Major Bunn to the correspondent, we find that 4,161 wagons, with over 23,000 animals, and over 10,000 head of buffalo stock, such as oxen, women and children, passed by that route westerly, from the middle of March to the 9th instant. The entire number of course, includes the immigrants, emigrants, settlers, freighters, &c., on the stage route through the Cheyenne Pass, as also, to our broad Territory and to New Mexico, and Arizona.

— KILLING OF CAPT. WAGGONER AND PARTY.—The following we clip from the Kansas City (Mo.) Journal of the 8th inst. The numerous friends and acquaintances of the deceased will read this report with sorrow:

We regret to learn that Captain Waggoner, of the Second Colorado, while on the march from Independence to Fort Leavenworth Hill, day before yesterday, was ambushed about 20 miles beyond the crossing of the River, and he and six of his men killed. The boys soon rallied, and after a sharp fight drove the bushwhackers off, inflicting, it is said, considerable loss on them. The Captain was killed at the first fire. His body was brought to Independence, where it was buried yesterday afternoon. He was a good man, and stood high in the regiment.

The company is said to have been marching somewhat imprudently, and without throwing out the usual "flankers." Too great care cannot be exercised by our men in moving through the brush. The enemy is frequently lurking near when least expected.

— D. A. BUTTERFIELD'S NEW HOUSE.—By the following from our estimable friend, Capt. Butterfield, our Colorado readers will perceive that he has opened on a large scale in the storage and Forwarding business at Atchison, Kansas. We bespeak for his enterprise a general patronage and deserved success.

STONE WARE-HOUSE, }
ATCHISON, July 5th, 1864. }

EDS. NEWS:—I have purchased of Gen. W. Howe the Stone Ware House, and have commenced an exclusive Forwarding and Storage business. From my long experience in business at Denver and among freighters generally, I am sure that I can forward all goods consigned to me cheaply and promptly at more favorable rates than from any other point on the river.

Asking a continuance of the business Coloradans heretofore have given to this Ware House, and assuring them that their freight shall have prompt attention,

I Remain, Yours Truly,
D. A. BUTTERFIELD.

— Referring to the above, I guarantee that Mr. Butterfield shall have all the transportation he needs to forward your merchandise.

A. BYRAM.

— JIM CLARKE RE-CAPTURED.—Jim, of unfortunate Slim notoriety, was captured again by deputy Marshal Farnum and lodged in jail on yesterday morning. He says he sojourned in this neighborhood for ten or eleven days after his departure from the jail, part of the time occupying a shaky couch under the stage of the Denver Theatre, and part of the time inhabiting the groves near Beckwarth's Ranch up the Platte. While hereabouts, he says he had a good time, living on cooked grub, cocktails and clothing, which were kindly furnished him by friends in town, whose names it is needless to say is no use to disclose. Finally he determined to pack some provisions on his back and foot it westward, sleeping out of nights, and continuing his weary tramp till he reached a stage station a few miles beyond Laporte, on the Salt Lake road, where he tarried and took a situation as stock tender for the time being, till he would make a raise to prosecute further west. Mr. Farnum, who, by the way, is one of the best detective officers we ever have had in Colorado Territory, hearing of a person of Jim's description being down near Laporte took the stage coach, and after considerable strategy, worthy of the man and the occasion whereunto he was sent, captured him and brought him back to town. Taking all in all, his gentle perseverance and his former Scotch wit, his characteristic fallen white to the Minian's abnormal imbecility and thoughtlessness while clerk in our own office, we cannot refrain from promoting him a bright fee of the first water, if in deed not a little fortune of less ingenuity than impulse and aberration of mind.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, Torpid Liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they do not try the celebrated

which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supersede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They give tone, strength and invigorate.
They create healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhœa, Cholera and Cholera Infantum.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, winter green, sassafras, roots and herbs all preserved in purest cane Rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of imposters. Examine every bottle. See that it has D. S. Barnes' autograph over cork, private U. S. stamp over the cork, with plantation scene, and our firm signature on fine steel plate engraving on side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. We defy any person to match the taste or character of our good. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or bulk, is an imposter. We only sell in our log cabin bottle. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on two parties filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting the rascals into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is perfectly incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

THE INDIAN WAR.

Since going to press last evening, we have the following additional news from below: The Indians were lurking in the bluffs between the Junction and Beaver Creek, all day yesterday. In the course of the afternoon they killed three men. One of them belonged to a government train, and he was killed near the Junction. The other two were killed eleven miles below. They were out in the bluffs near Beaver Creek hunting cattle. Beaver Creek station is nineteen miles beyond the Junction. One horse was stolen from Valley Station last night, but no Indians have been seen in that neighborhood to-day. There is good reason to believe that they have skedaddled.

MINING TITLES.

It is a universally admitted fact that the mining interest of Colorado is paramount to all others. All other interests below it are subject to it. If the miners are prosperous, Colorado flourishes. If they fail, Colorado fails. But no one looks for this latter contingency. All who know anything about our mines, admit that Colorado's mineral wealth is inexhaustible. One of the great objects then to be obtained is to secure the very imperfect titles by which we at present hold that class of property. Their uncertainty is already admitted, and each year will add to their doubt under present arrangements. But even worse portends. The odious "Seigniorage Act" is yet pending in Congress. We have already been informed that the next session of that body will in all probability adopt a policy, and enact a law for the government of mining property. It is intimated that the bill referred to will probably be that law.

In handling this subject we confess to being actuated to some extent by selfish motives. In common with other pioneers of the Territory, we have from time to time acquired a considerable number of mining claims in various portions of the country. They have cost us time, and toil, and money. We hold them under the laws of the Territory, and of the respective districts in which they are situate. They are about all we possess. If we can retain them, we hope that some day they will yield us a competence. If our titles are swept away by some act of Congress, it will sweep away our all. Every prospector and miner, and in fact almost every citizen of Colorado, is in the same situation. Many have expended hundreds and thousands of dollars in the purchase of mining claims. Yet if this Seigniorage Act becomes a law, all will go by the board. The result of years of toil and privations; the acquisitions by purchase; almost every interest of the miner, will pass away together. Because under that law the miner can hold but one claim, and that he must continually occupy,—yea more, he must pay a yearly rental therefor.

Are we ready for this? Are the miners ready? Is there one miner in Colorado who feels that his interest is safe? Does he feel that his dearly earned rights; the product of his labor; the property for which he has paid his money, is secure? As citizens and patriots, we humbly confess that we do not. Then, if not, are we ready to meet the issue? Certainly not unless we bestir ourselves. Our Delegate says that a mining code will be adopted. He is our only representative in Congress, and he is committed to the Seigniorage Act. Upon that he is at issue with the people, and no one doubts but that he will pursue to the end the course upon which he has set out. We have protested, and done all we could against the passage of that law. In response to our suggestion, the people poured in upon Congress a perfect torrent of remonstrances and petitions. The threatened evil was checked for a time, but for a time only. What more can be done? Only this; adopt the Constitution and a State government. Send new men to Congress, liberal representatives who will have votes, and who will be accountable for how they cast them. Stand minutes—"day hands," or "night hands"—upon who have interests in the miner to protect.

At this critical moment, Congress has generously opened a way for our relief, and no relief to a beleaguered garrison could have been more opportune. It was a gracious privilege extended exactly at the right time. To accept it is to allow our care for our own welfare. To reject it, is to say we don't want to take care of ourselves—we don't want to be properly represented. It is to say that we prefer to continue our present Delegate in Congress another year. It is to endorse his course, Seigniorage Act and all. Every vote against the Constitution is an approval of his policy as reflected in the bill he introduced. It will strengthen his hands in the strongest possible manner. Miners, are you ready to do this? Are you ready to cast such a suicidal vote? This is no political question. It comes home to the pocket. It affects the prospective supply of bread and meat.

We confessed in the beginning that we felt a selfish interest in this question, yet we couched the interests of Colorado; particularly her great mining interest, as paramount to all personal considerations. No one will charge us with endeavoring to advance the interests of any pet candidate in this, and we disavow any overweening desire to displace any present incumbent from office except for the benefit of Colorado. Let the miners in the gulches and valleys of the mountains ponder upon these things, and when the time comes to act, let them put good men in the field for every office. And on the thirteenth day of September next, let them, to a man, vote for the Constitution, and for the candidates they have nominated.

LAST NIGHT'S REPORT.

Affairs on the Lower Mississippi.

NEW YORK, July 18.—A private letter from Morganzia, La., dated the 30th ultimo says Gen'l Canby is very active, perfecting arrangements for military operations. Gen'l Mower, with a portion of his forces, has arrived at Morganzia, and is in command of all the colored troops. The fortifications at Morganzia are most formidable, commanding a range of over six miles along the Mississippi. The fortifications are deemed of the utmost importance, being an equal distance from Port Hudson and Red River, thus forming a very important base, and the key to Red River.

From Grant's front—Rebel News and Miscellaneous Items.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The Times' special Washington correspondent of the 17th says the transport City of Baltimore arrived from City Point this morning, bringing latest intelligence from Grant's army. Heavy skirmishing was going on in front of the 9th army corps, and an early assault was expected along the front of our whole line.

The World's special says there is no decisive news of the pursuit of Va. of the rebel forces lately threatening this city, and it seems to be generally conceded that they have made good their escape.

The Richmond Examiner of the 13th seems despondent on account of Sherman's operations, and thinks he may possibly take Atlanta.

The Herald's Cumberland special of the 12th says a detachment of Hunter's troops captured a rebel mail containing important contraband intelligence.

A Raleigh, N.C. correspondent says the entire rebel press of that State is much exercised over the discovery of a treasonable organization in their midst.

Description of pass word, formulas &c. are published.

Semmes is out of Health.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The La France rebel Paris Organ says Capt. Semmes is going into Germany to recruit his shattered health, and that his first Lieutenant has been appointed to take his place on the new Pirate vessel which is soon coming out.

The Times' Paris correspondent says that two new frigates built by Armas have been purchased by Prussia, so that if Semmes' successor gets a vessel it will have to be from England.

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Repaired

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will be in running order as far as Harding's Mountain.

Only one span of the bridge across the Shenandoah at Harper's Ferry was destroyed, and that was repaired before the enemy fairly got away.

They Protest.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The Governors of Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama and North Carolina have issued protest to the rebel Government, against mismanagement of the management of import and export trade.

Particulars of the Monocacy Battle

CHICAGO, July 18.—From the Philadelphia Enquirer we have the following of the battle of Monocacy:

At eight o'clock on Saturday, Gen'l Wallace had his forces in position, behind Monocacy river; his right resting on Gambles' mills, a quarter of a mile to the left of the railroad. The line of battle stretched down parallel with a heavy forest in the rear, and with open, broken ground in front. Two regiments were thrown out as skirmishers. The rebel movement developed itself about 8 o'clock in the morning; their cavalry advancing until it came within sight of our skirmish line, where dismounting, the usual course of a skirmish fight ensued, resulting in our line being driven back across the river. About 10 o'clock the rebels made several desperate charges to take the bridge fortunately in front of our centre. These charges were handsomely repulsed with considerable loss to the enemy. About four o'clock Gen'l Wallace, doubting the ability to hold, ordered it fired. Two miles below, the stream was only middle deep, and while the enemy hammered away at our front, he sent six regiments to this point, which crossed and fell suddenly upon our left, and the fate of our little force seemed sealed.

The Medical director at Frederick gives the following loss at Monocacy:

The Federal loss, killed, wounded and prisoners, is 711; rebel loss 750.

CAIRO, July 17.—All accounts of Gen'l Sloeum's expedition yet received are very meagre. The rebels, it is said, have gained a decided advantage. They say that the road for miles on the line of the Federal retreat is strewn with horses and guns.

The National Union says: A marine brigade and two colored regiments from Vicksburg on the 14th, landed at Rodney and proceeded into the country thirteen miles. One of their reconnoitering parties was captured and several killed and wounded. After a skirmish they fell back to the main body, the rebels following. A fight ensued, lasting nearly all day; the rebels were finally driven off, and the Federals returned to the boats. Our loss was about one hundred and fifty killed and wounded. The rebel force consisted of five brigades of cavalry and one of infantry.

AFTERNOON REPORT.

Rebel News.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The Richmond Examiner of the 13th is despondent concerning Sherman's operations, and says that it is not impossible that he may take Atlanta.

FORTRESS MONROE, July 18.—Richmond papers have the following telegrams from Atlanta, July 12th.—The enemy is in position on the north side of the Chattahoochie; there is some fighting between the sharpshooters, with occasional artillery fire, with but little damage.

ATLANTA, July 13.—The enemy are massing on the right, near Roswell. A portion of the Yankee army is on the south side of the river. Sherman's head quarters are at Vining station. The Atlanta Confederacy says: We shall not attempt to tell the fancied security of our readers, by declaring that Atlanta is not in imminent danger. Its capture, however, cannot be considered a foregone conclusion. If Gen. Johnson can't make a successful battle, or hold the enemy in check along the Chattahoochie, he can't anywhere below; and in that event a temporary check would be but the capture of Atlanta, putting the town at the full disposition of the invaders, to stay their appetite for conquest. We have no doubt the Federal government would be satisfied with the capture of Atlanta, and garrison and fortify it as a base for further operations.

The Richmond Dispatch gives the most exaggerated accounts of the rebel raid in Maryland.

LOUISVILLE, July 19.—The Journal is advised that early Saturday morning a large rebel force, said to be under the command of Forrest, captured the Stockade at Brownsboro, on the Charleston Railroad. Most of the garrison escaped. The rebels then moved on Huntsville. After a sharp skirmish they drove in the Federal pickets. Our troops number 5,000 and are strongly fortified. The rebel force is estimated at from 9,000 to 10,000. Additional troops are being sent to Huntsville.

CHICAGO, July 19.—Contradictory reports in regard to another rebel invasion in Kentucky have been received. One report says, a force variously estimated at from 5,000 to 15,000, entered the State via Pound Gap, two days since, and are now at Martindale, Floyd County. The militia are actively engaged preparing a warm reception.

A Cincinnati telegram says, reports are received contradicting the reports of the invasion. A day or two will determine the truth or falsity of the same.

WANTED—Two good farm hands. Enquire at this office.

—Members of the Union League had a good time last evening. There was a rousing speech by Mr. King. We failed yesterday to call attention to the meeting, but the omission was entirely unintentional.

FROM TOUGHCUSS—WIND AUGERS AND THINGS.

GOLDEN CITY, July 14, 1864.

EDS. NEWS: I am again in this rip roaring City. So called because the creek rips out the bridges and roars like unto the great Niagara, only not so muchly. I have been to Black Hawk, Central Empire and Idaho. "Things is workin'" everywhere. Navigation (for prairie schooners) has been improved wonderfully of late, from Central to Empire. Fields, of the Fall River House, is a fully good fellow, and keeps a fine house. Nash, at Empire, is another, and don't dare take it up. That back room of Fisher's is a very poor thing of itself too. They have the Ute Indian tribe at Empire now. His name is Jake. Wonder if he is any relation to that "festive Jake" who runs the Overland Stage Line from Denver to Central? Jake (the Indian) is a funny fellow in his way. Half an inch of whisky in him is better than an ounce. There should be two or three Companies of troops stationed at that place to protect the inhabitants from a rash act. Who knows how soon he may be some exasperated, and massacre every man, woman and child in the mountains. Then Denver will have to go up there just as they had to come down to the valley (?)

There is a vote for sale on the State question at Empire. I heard an individual of some prominence remark as follows. "I do not know whether I shall vote for the latter or not. However, I am open to contract between this and election." I suppose he wanted this fact published or he wouldn't have told it to me.

Cook and Kimball are putting up a monster brick building for a mill at Spanish Bar. Also a large boarding house for employees near by. This looks like business. Returning from Empire, I came upon an extensive field of strawberries on Fall River, near where the road and stream part company, or come together, which ever suits you best. Here I enjoyed myself for an hour eating this luscious fruit while my train were helping themselves to any quantity of fine grass. That Fall River is a great institution. Its banks lined with strawberries, while its waters are literally filled with trout.

Items.—The two days special meeting yesterday, first and last being "run by" the "Chief," disrupt is that was to be seen in the streets, and decidedly a runaway on Front street, to the western part of town.

Indian depredations were subjects of universal discussion through town last evening. No two persons had precisely the same ideas about Indian character, views, virtues, wrongs or revenges.

Denver, July 11th, 1864. d3w1t

A Cincinnati contractor named Charles Langenstein was been found guilty by a court martial, of presenting fraudulent claims against the government. He was fined $12,000, and sentenced to imprisonment until the fine is paid, (it ought to have added at the rate of 10 cents per day.)

Chicago is a virtuous place! The Mayor of the city is now charged with accepting a bribe of $3000, the Comptroller with fraudulent use of public money, one of the Police Commissioners is under arrest for a worse charge, and the Superintendent of Police is "enjoined" for usurpation of office.

Howard & Colony of Central city have the finest selection of Jewelry in the Territory of Colorado. Their stock of American and English gold and silver watches, both for ladies and gents, is complete. Their facilities for manufacturing jewelry from native gold by artistic workmen, are superior. Gold chains, ladies' sets, &c., made to order at short notice. The public is respectfully invited to call and examine.
July 18th, dtf.

INDIAN ITEMS.—The only news from down the Platte, which we could learn since last evening's issue, and up to the hour of going to press, is that of the reported shooting of the man in charge of the commissary train, and later, of one or two animals telegraphed as stolen by Indians from a stage station during last night. Most of the stock driven off by the Indians has been recaptured and restored to the owners, at the stations and immigrant camps along the route.

RECRUITS WANTED.—Your attention is called to a recruiting advertisement of Lt. R. W. Jenkins, 2d Colorado Regiment. The pay and bounty, good clothing and other inducements offered, are such as can not fail to stimulate young men to join the ranks of the Colorado Braves and actively serve their country in this her hour of need.

—From Fort Laramie, 18th: Lieut. O. S. Glenn, Lieut. J. G. Reeves, Lieut. N. E. Averill, and Capt. Evans, from Camp Collins.

STABBING AFFAIR.—A Hibernian disciple of Crispin, named Tom McMarvin, while slightly under the influence of "mod corn," stabbed a countryman of his, named Martin Ryan, who is also an artist in leather, this afternoon at Gaffney's saloon near the Mint. It is thought McMarvin is seriously injured. Marshal Bailey and Deputy Wall have both of these belligerent shoemakers under their temporary care, to have them treated in due time according to the rules of statute law and surgery.

THE "WASHOE HERALD."—Messrs. Fitch & Bonnel, Virginia City, Nevada Territory, have just issued a daily evening paper bearing the above name. Mr. Fitch was formerly connected with the Bulletin, a spicy, lively, liberal-toned daily of the said city. The present paper is a large, well filled, generally interesting journal, worthy of the character of its editors and the city of its publication. We welcome to our exchange list this last of the numerous newspapers started and starting to starve each other to death, in the land of sage brush and silver ledges—this our supposed willderness of Washoe.

This mundane sphere of ours was visited this forenoon by a most welcome and well timed rain, in and for Arapahoe county, and to such a refreshing extent that not only the parched fields were soaked for several inches deep, but the very streets of town were made to look like so many working sluice boxes, on a large broad scale. At present writing the side crossings are quite sloppy and the corners of the streets, particularly those of Blake and F and G streets are converted into little lakes whereon light skiffs might readily be made to run, a la Naples and old Venice. The face of nature, animate and inanimate, rose in spirit as the barometer fell; and the befuddled individuals who were scrutinized on store-house crossings down town on yesterday, sprinkled in the moisture, of this mid-day, merry in mental feeling, and majestic in the Candle like comforts of umbrellas and oil cloth coats.

New Mexico Items.—The Fourth passed off unusually quiet at Santa Fe, with only a big ball in the evening at the chief hotel. Judge Howell, of Arizona, went east by last coach. They talk of erecting an hospital in Santa Fe, from funds contributed by the "California columns" during a few years past. Grasshoppers are as troublesome in New Mexico as they are in Colorado. A Mr. Vickry, from Arizona, reports that there are what he considers rich quartz leads in that Territory, which, if the Apache Indians were out of the way and quartz mill machinery was introduced, would possibly prove very rich. The New Mexican, a live, liberal paper, of the progressive order, published at Santa Fe, has our acknowledgments for its courteous welcome in our first issue after the flood. The Press, published at Albuquerque, speaks of the relieving of Capt. A. F. Garrison from duty as Chief Commissary of the Territory, and adds, "from his long and faithful service, he has acquired the sobriquet of Old Integrity; and our citizens consider him worthy of respect for his superior official capacity, honesty and independence."

THE PRINCE OF HUMBUGS.—P. T. Barnum, the proprietor of "Barnum's American Museum," Broadway, New York, stands without a rival in the world of enterprise as well as humbug, and after having lost a fortune once or twice, to-day stands forth the active manager of his Museum, and worth perhaps a couple millions of dollars. The latest "kink" of the "old showman" is a series of letters on "Ancient and Modern Humbugs," the first of which articles appears in the New York Mercury of the 2nd inst., and is intensely interesting to all that ache to read of humbugs and be humbugged while so doing. You all had better subscribe for the New York Mercury and learn what Phineas T. has got to say, from week to week. Although he is a Lieutenant General among the Commanders in Chief of showmen and of humbugs, we shall stow away a dollar greenback in our trunk for the special purpose of taking so much ticket stock in his world renowned museum when first we strike the Great Metropolis. He never fails to acknowledge that printer's ink has been the main spring of his success, and that thirty years' experience convinced him that, ninety-nine times in every hundred, nothing was so conducive to success in business as liberal advertising.

WILLING.—This erratic individual, who "run" Colorado for a while in '59, then divided his [illegible] with W Corning [illegible] occasionally edited [illegible] and Willing's [illegible] —h[illegible] [illegible]ing [illegible] millmonk, [illegible] to St. Louis, where he flourished for a time upon magnificent pretensions. As rebellion ripened, the force of his gravity carried him to the Secesh side, but when it began to get hot, he "weakened." We have one of his letters written then, veiled copy now, that would disturb his equanimity somewhat, if his new friends were to see it. From St. Louis he went to Philadelphia, and astonished the denizens of that village by ocular demonstration, that so smart a man had lived so long without [illegible] As "Professor Willing" he contributed a series of articles to a scientific paper upon the gold mines of Colorado, Arizona, New and Old Mexico, "from personal observations." He discoursed learnedly of "focal centres," and "radiating veins," in the San Francisco mountains, and a hundred other places that he never had seen, and knew no more about than a hog does about holidays. By accident his true character was revealed to his publishers, and Professor Willing sunk from sight. Next we noticed in our California exchanges frequent references to the "Willing Prospecting Company" and we waited and watched expecting confidently to discover an old friend. We were not disappointed, and by the last Monday Press of San Francisco, we learn that "Dr Willing has been heard from on West Walker's river." "The party had found some very good silver croppings, and sent in some specimens." The Dr also sent in some "tin ore." The brass he doubtless took with him. The party was to be gone eight months. If he don't prospect his California backers through and through in that time, it will because they are not willing. In the mean time, if the Press has assessments to pay in the "Willing Prospecting Company," we'll furnish Willing paper at a low figure, just out of friendship for the craft. Is Jewett in the company?

JOHN J. RIETHMANN.

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits, troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they do not try the celebrated

which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supercede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create healthy appetites.
They arouse antidote to change of water and diet.
They arrest the effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea, Cholera and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are unbounded nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, winter green, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of imposters. Examine every bottle. See that it has D. S. Barnes' private signature on a fine steel plate engraving on side label. See that your bottle is not re filled with spurious and deleterious stuff. We defy any person to match the taste or character of our goods. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or bulk, is an imposter. We only sell in our log cabin bottle. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on two parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is perfectly incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

To the student of Public History, the Work is invaluable.

It is a record of the most vital importance to history. From the beginning it has presented every official document, and every event and incident worthy of note, from the Southern side, as it placed the Union Legislature, with the documents and narratives of the Union side. It is accurate, impartial, and complete. It is essential to every Lawyer's Library. It has already been referred to in both Houses of Congress, in Courts of Justice, in Argument before the Supreme Court of Philadelphia, New York Boston, and San Francisco.

The Philadelphia Press, Oct. 28, 1864, thus speaks of it:

"During the trial in the United States Circuit Court, which formally and yesterday in the conviction of Wm. Smith for piracy, as one of the crew of the Jeff. Davis, a great deal of documentary evidence to show the enemy of mankind he was adduced in evidence by the counsel for defence, taking from Frank Moore's REBELLION RECORD and read out by Judges Grier and Cadwalader who presided. This is a remarkable compilation, for the work in question but further than it merits, from the valuable and fair mass of its varied information, requires but the series and precision of the rebellion. It is the first time in legal and [illegible] history, that a book has yet completed, has been interrogated with authority, as to be admitted as evid ence in a court of law, and on a trial for a capital offence."

Which it is [illegible] every loyal in K—x X—k, the various counsels for the United States and the defence, used the REBELLION RECORD as evid nce.

In the case of the Chapman pirates, recently tried in the Court at San Francisco, "the [illegible] Richard Hayward, attorney, found the First Vol ume of the Record as evidence, as many authorities did. Mr. Hoffman objected. Dr. Hoffman, [illegible] system, Access volume, was admitted, who stated that it was the only authentic history of the war. The Court decided that it was received in all trials for treason in the Eastern States, and there have recognized it as such."

No volume of the kind Publication can be without it. A vast amount of information must inevitably accumulate which has been sought after, and the REBELLION RECORD has been pronounced a word of "legal authority."

It is a National Work.

The record of the war between Publications and others, will be found a thing [illegible] The preparation of all those who will be present in [illegible] future point of history of our country will be here recorded, and [illegible] REBELLION RECORD must take its [illegible]

Statesman's Library.

Part XXXIX, being [illegible] at the Seventh Volume, is now ready for delivery.

N. B.—The interest of [illegible] in this work, and wishes to connect with it, can do the [illegible] December, 1864. All orders should be addressed direct to the Publishers, or

DAILY NEWS.

DENVER, COLORADO TERRITORY

WEDNESDAY, [illegible] -- JULY 20, 1864.

We'll not furl THAT flag,
Until over our Nation,
ALL the stars blaze again
In one grand constellation.

FOR THE CONSTITUTION

FOR PRESIDENT,

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

VICE PRESIDENT,

ANDREW JOHNSON.

TO STUMP COLORADO.

Mr. W. W. King, so well and favorably known as one of the most able and eloquent public speakers of the West, has, we understand, volunteered to stump the Territory in favor of the adoption of the State Constitution.

Mr. King is thoroughly identified with the mining and other great interests of our country; and understanding them thoroughly as he does, he will be able to present the arguments for State organization most clearly and forcibly to the people. Those who have an opportunity to hear him should not fail to improve it. They will enjoy the treat—for a rich treat it will be—whether pre-determined to vote either for or against the Constitution.

"MINORITY ADDRESS."

The Black Hawk Mining Register of the 9th inst., contains a communication signed by five gentlemen who were members of the recent Convention, which purports to be a "Minority report of the delegates to the Constitutional Convention." Exactly why it should be so entitled, we are at a loss to guess. A "Minority report" is usually considered as being in contra-distinction to a majority report, but in this case there is none unless the Constitution is to be so considered. In that case, these gentlemen occupy the anomalous position of reporting upon both sides of the question.

But to consider their address itself, which we shall do as briefly as possible. We do not question their right to express their opinions freely and fully, but in considering so important a subject in what seems to be perfect candor, a decent regard should be paid to treating facts squarely and truthfully. A wrong construction, a tortured meaning, or grounds for incorrect inferences, resting upon assumed facts, may be as unfair and wrong as an absolute misstatement of the facts themselves. In this respect, and upon several material points, these gentlemen have unquestionably erred.

It is asserted, that the Convention trespassed upon the powers of the Legislative Assembly. The only answer necessary to this allegation—save reference to the Constitution of any of the older States—the amended Constitution of Indiana for instance, which was framed in 1851. The people of that State are supposed to be tolerably enlightened, and they had the benefit of fifty years' experience under a State Government to guide their judgment. Yet it treats, what these gentlemen seem to consider fatal matters, far more in detail than does the Constitution which they set out to criticise. We quote the concluding sentence of their paragraph upon this subject, simply because we can't understand it, "In the various Scmagogueal lops of reconciling it to the prejudices of ill the gravest principles, are sacrificed to the Molock of expediency." What is sacrificed?

Here is another tremendous bugaboo. "The rule of salaries fixed instead of fees, is departed from, in payment of officers, for fear of frightening [illegible] Murray, or 'any other man,'" We tell exactly what that means. The influence intended is doubtless that the Convention did wrong, but whether in fixing salaries, or in allowing fees, we are at a loss to determine. The succeeding paragraph is evidently upon the same subject, and the gist of it is that although the Constitution limits the expense of the State government at from sixteen to twenty thousand dollars per annum, the actual expenditures will probably exceed that sum. Now, the Legislative Assembly—the powers of which we have just been assured are so much restricted, will be responsible for needless expenditures of this superfluous sum, and it will prove that the Convention, with all its careful parsimony, did not quite sufficiently hedge them about. But even granting that the actual expenses do reach twice sixteen thousand dollars, it is yet less than one third the amount named by the Opposition for months past—the sheet anchor of all their arguments against the State question.

The next point made is "the hot haste in which this measure was hurried through" and "the efforts of the eminent men determine the authority and legality of our proceedings for the Enabling Act were evaded." This we pronounce joke out of mimicry. We suppose they have never once seen the Enabling Act, although it has been published over and over again in the Territorial papers. They probably did not read it during the sitting of the Convention—though several copies of it were present—and we suspect they were down stairs when it was read from the President's stand. Really it was too bad, but that little law of Congress contained all that anyone claimed as the "authority" to "legalize our proceedings." Upon it we remember vividly, there was a select committee of five appointed upon the motion of one of the signers to this address, whose business it was to examine into this very matter, and laugh away the scruples and doubts that bedogged his mind, and—but a new thought strikes us; perhaps that is that committee's report.

Fault is found because the election "is fixed for the second Tuesday in October, instead of September." Now we undertake to say that the erudite gentleman who penned that very lucid paragraph, knew when he was writing it that the election had to be, and was fixed in exact accordance with the provisions of the Enabling Act. To provide against a contingency, however, which it was supposed had arisen by the passage of a supplementary act of Congress, section 2 of the Schedule was made to read as follows:

"The first general election under this Constitution shall be held on the second Tuesday in October, in the year 1864, or at such other time as may have been fixed by Congress."

Since that time this supplementary act of Congress has been received, and the election will be held in accordance with its provisions, on the second Tuesday in September; and those quibblers know full well that it could not be held at any other time, any act of the Convention to the contrary notwithstanding. The plan adopted for choosing Electors, they also know, was the only practicable one under the circumstances for securing a representation in the Electoral College. Neither can they deny that the Legislative Assembly has full and complete control of this question, under the Constitution and laws of the United States. But right here is the pinch. They gentlemen don't want Colorado to choose Presidential Electors at all.

The next quibble is upon the changes that may be made in existing Territorial laws. And its authors know that the Constitution itself adopts those laws until they are repealed or amended by the State Legislative Assembly. Certainly that body will not be more likely to enact obnoxious laws, or change for the worse existing ones, than the Territorial Legislature; especially as its members will be chosen from the same people, and will most likely be the same men.

And the next is because the Indian title is not extinguished. The Indian title is extinguished to a large portion of the Territory. Do the gentlemen argue that it should be extinguished, to all? Would that be following precedents in the organization and admission of States? Verily! these latter arguments are "puny, infantile nondescripts—skeletons, without flesh, or sinew, or marrow in their bones."

One more paragraph, and the last one that is worthy of notice, we quote entire;

"An illustration of the sophistry of the Friends of State organization is found in the argument so strongly urged that a larger representation is needed in Congress to protect the burdensome taxation of the mines, while in the same breath they assert that they desire to relieve Government of the expense of our support. How Government is to be benefitted by cutting off an outlay of two hundred thousand a year, and at the same time increasing an income of five millions, is a question we leave these astute political economists to solve."

And we leave it to intelligent readers of "Minority Address" ers to explain what is meant by the last sentence of the above paragraph. For the life of us, we can't tell. Can anybody? Altogether this Minority Address seems to us the most disjointed effusion we ever saw. Its authors set out to give reasons for the faith that was in them, and utterly failed to advance a single one, having a paucity of [illegible]

PUBLIC ACTS.

We publish to-day two acts of Congress that are of especial interest to citizens of Colorado. One is for the relief of the citizens of Denver, and the other is an amendment to the Enabling Act, changing the time of voting upon the Constitution from October to September. This brings the election upon the same day with the Territorial election.

NEBRASKA AND NEVADA.

The Constitutional Convention of Nebraska met at Omaha on the 4th inst., and after effecting a permanent organization, adjourned sine die. The experiment of their population, that Nebraska was necessary to assume a State organization. Certainly that Territory has not the necessity for a State government that Colorado has, nor is she as wealthy, to support it.

In Nevada, the Convention has adopted the old Constitution as the basis for a substitute, the objectionable features will be modified, and the document made acceptable to the people. Gerrard Lewis, Esq., of the Sac. Union, says it is asserted that a large majority of the voters of the Territory are in favor of State organization. Nevada and Colorado will come in together.

A very intelligent correspondent of the San Francisco Bulletin, writing from Washington, gives a blue picture of affairs there, growing out of the opposition of mining stocks, the vexed currency question and the endless litigation in which they are involved. He says it would take their Territorial courts two years, steady work, to clear their present dockets. In that time probably six more years work would accumulate. He sums up by giving it as his opinion, and the opinion of the best informed men of that country, that their only means of relief from present embarrassments is in the adoption of a State Government. It is their opinion that it would give greater confidence in their mining property, and that if it is not adopted, they need not look for the assistance of any more foreign capital.

WHAT IS GOING ON.

There is a good deal of anxiety among the public to know what steps are being taken to quell the Indian disturbances down the Platte. There is also considerable clamor from that knowing class, always so ready to advise and complain but who are never ready to shoulder a musket, not even for an hour's drill. To quiet sensitive nerves we will just say that efficient steps have been and are being taken; that the plans are working well, and that Mr. Lo will soon find it quite hot down among the sand hills. More than this we cannot say just now because it is contraband.

Pertinent to this subject we will add that the Governor received a dispatch day before yesterday from Major Colley to the effect that the Cheyennes profess peace and friendship, but say that about one hundred and fifty of their braves who have rebelled against the authority of the chiefs of the tribe, are on the war path, and committing all these depredations. They hope that the whites will kill these outlaws. This information was obtained by Mr. Bent, who was sent by Col. Colley to talk with the tribe. We hope there is no mistake about it, and that the Indians told the truth and all of it. Quien Sabe.

FROM FORT LYON.

"H" sends us some interesting gossip from Fort Lyon, but the exceeding pressure upon our columns just at the present time, prevents the publication of his letter entire. We append the closing paragraph:

"I hear but little said here among the officers or men about the "State question," but so far as I am able to judge, they believe that this great country is a nation, and not a mere league of independent sovereign States, and that nationality is what we are contending for. I think that this is the grand idea that should be kept before the people of our Territory at the present time. Once convince the people that by becoming a State they assume a position in support of the Administration, at once grand and glorious, and the victory for a State government is achieved."

LAST NIGHT'S REPORT.

The Rebel Retreat from Maryland.

New York, July 19.—The Tribune's special says, on Sunday evening our forces were seven miles beyond Leesburg, in pursuit of the rebels, who are making rapid time up the Shenandoah, towards Staunton.

A number of stragglers were captured by our cavalry and sent to the rear.

Heavy firing was heard at Great Falls, in the direction of Edwards' Ferry, supposed to be a collision between our advance and the rebel rear.

The provisional brigade organized for the defence of Washington and composed of the slightly wounded from various hospitals, has been disbanded, and most of the men left for their regiments in the field.

The rebel loss, in killed, wounded and prisoners, in the demonstration on Washington is supposed to be over two thousand. The prisoners represent over sixty three different regiments, and belong to five different divisions.

Gen. Slocum again [illegible]

Memphis, July 17.—Vicksburg advices say Gen. Slocum has been reinforced again, and is marching for the interior of Mississippi.

From the Front before Petersburg.

New York, July 17.—The Herald's James River correspondent of the 16th, says the rebels shelled Gen. Foster's headquarters at Steep Bottom that day for about an hour. Their range was so accurate that his headquarters had to be moved several times. Several shells went through the General's tent. They also opened fire on the Gun-boat and Pontoon bridge. The Gun-boat returned their fire and soon silenced the battery. Grant was having an interview with Gen. Foster when the firing took place.

Foreign News.

FORTRESS MONROE, V. E., July 18.—The Damascus, from Liverpool the 7th, and Londonderry the 8th, has arrived.

Rumors unfavorable to Grant caused the advance in the Confederate loan of two to three per cent.

The Times, in reviewing Grant's position, says that it cannot be concluded that the campaign now is reduced to a question of Petersburg, or nothing.

The Star rejoices, that in the absence of any great military success, that at least the progress of negro emancipation is making great strides.

The Paris correspondence of the Star says that the Kearsage would leave on the 5th of July, to cruise in the channel, and watch the movements of the rebel cruisers.

It is reported that a vessel is being built at Bordeaux will be completed at Amsterdam, and be commanded by Semmes. She is a large vessel, capable of resisting an attack, or running away from such vessels as the Kearsage or Niagara.

A private telegraph from Copenhagen says, it has been determined by the Council of Ministers, to treat directly with Prussia, on the basis of Denmark being admitted into the German confederacy, as the only means of saving the monarchy. This is regarded as highly probable.

Russia is making active naval preparations at Cronstadt. It is said that the Russian squadron is about to visit the Swedish and Danish ports in the Baltic.

Rebel Delegations to the Chicago Convention.

New York, July 18.—A Niagara Falls telegram says—C. C. Clay of Alabama, Jacob Thompson of Mississippi, Beverly Jackson and Geo. N. Sanders, are at that place, to devise a basis of action at the Chicago Convention, which shall end the war and secure the triumph of the Democratic party. Though not claiming to speak for the seceded States, as yet, they hold out strong hopes of getting their assent. Their propositions are believed to be as follows: First, return of seceded States to the Union, second, assumption of Confederate debts; third, recognition of the freedom of slaves actually emancipated in the course of the war, and status quo ante bellum as to all others.

The Richmond Whig of the 15th, says that Sheridan, with two brigades of cavalry is moving towards Portsmouth. Some think they are going towards North Carolina; others think they will embark at Portsmouth for Maryland.

Richmond papers of the 16th are exceedingly jubilant, and announce the capture of Baltimore, Washington, and New Orleans.

From Virginia City, Idaho.—Parties recently from this eldorado inform us that the Union men of the above city had a glorious time on Independence Day. They, numbering a large majority of Democrats and Coloradans raised a Fourth of July pole and unfurled from its top a tremendous flag, forty feet in length, bearing on its ample folds the glorious old stars and stripes as they appeared before rebellion smeared the southern portion of once proud Columbia. Good for the Coloradoans.—Rocky Mtn. News.

Rev. Mr. McLeod, of the Congregational Church is stopping in our city at present, purposing to organize a Congregational society and establish a Church. We would bespeak for Rev. McLeod a generous reception and success in this field of labor.

Considerable complaint obtains amongst the "dorg fanciers" because for sooth they have to pay that "license" or stand a suit in court. You admirers of canine quadrupeds, with caudal continuations endowed with sensations directed opposite to their eyes, will have to stand the tax or throw your precious poodles into "pound." Some dogs are decidedly valuable, for their watchfulness and their virtues; but there are a host of 'em not worth their weight in "wall rock" or the beef steak that their owners bum off boarding-houses. We have our opinion of a boor that brings his dog along with him to dining tables, or of a lady that lets a little poodle take a corkscrew promenade with her along the public street.

D. T.—1864.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits, troubled with weakness, headache, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they do not try the celebrated

which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supersede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create healthy appetites.
They are a mild tonic in change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhœa, Cholera and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer.

They are compound of the celebrated Calisaya bark, winter green, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of imposters. Examine every bottle. See that it has D. S. Barnes' private signature on are private U. S. stamp over the cork, with plantation scene, and our firm signature on a fine steel plate engraving on side label. See that our bottle is not re-filled with spurious and deleterious stuff. We defy any person to match the taste or character of our goods. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or bulk, is an imposter. We only sell in our log cabin bottle. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on two parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is perfectly incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

To the student of Public History, the Work is invaluable.

It is a record of the materials for history. From this beginning it has proceeded every official document, and every clear and intelligent statement, from the southern side, and classed them, interspersed with the documents and testimony of the Union side. It is accurate, impartial, and complete. It is essential to every Lawyer's Library. It has already been received with public favor in all the Public and Private Libraries in the United States, Europe and Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and San Francisco.

The Christian Press, Oct. 30, 1863, thus speaks of it:

"During the trial in the United States Circuit Court, which terminated last yesterday in the conviction of Wm. Smith, for piracy, in one of the crews of the ship Savah, a great deal of documentary evidence to show the reality of secession was offered in evidence by the counsel for defence, taken from Frank Moore's Rebellion Records and read out by Judges Grier and Cadwalader while presiding. This is a remarkable compilation of [illegible] but further than it affects, from the full and fair form of its various documents, respecting the origin and character of the rebellion. It is the first thing in legal [illegible] history that a book has ever been considered, heretofore associated with authority, as to be admitted as evidence in a court of law, and on a trial for capital offence."

When the Savannah pirates were tried in New York, the various counsels for the United States and the defence, used the Rebellion Records as evidence.

In the case of the Chesapeake pirates, recently tried in the Court at San Francisco, Wm. Allen Maior District Attorney, forced the Fire Volumes of the Rebellion as evidence, as being authentic history. The defence objected. Dr. McCleary, Captain Jerome Collins, was sworn, who stated it [illegible] was the only public authority of the war. The Court decided that it was required in all trials for treason in this country, which it was, and therefore considered it as such.

The majority of the legal Profession can be without it. A vast amount of information must inevitably emanate after the [illegible] has been published and the Secession Civil War has been pronounced a word of "long ago."

It is a National Work.

The record of all our Statesmen, Politicians and others, will be found in this work. The proclamations of all men who will be prominent in the future political history of our country will be here recorded, and the REBELLION RECORD will be the [illegible] work.

Statesman's Manual says.
